

CAHILL RESIDENCE NEVADA, IOWA

Location: Nevada, IA

End Date: August 15, 2010

Project Size: 4,200 SF

Budget: N/A

Project Description:

Construction of this new home in rural Nevada began early summer 2010. It was being built on the site where the families' previous home was located. The sloping grade change behind the house provided a great opportunity to open up the downstairs with a walkout basement. This allowed both the basement and the first floor to share the great views to the northwest.

The first floor open concept plan incorporates a kitchen adjacent to a vaulted great room. The great room is generously provided with exterior view and clerestory windows and features a floor to ceiling stone fireplace that is shared with the study/library. The dining room is located across an open railing stairway that leads down to the lower level. Two bedrooms, a bathroom, a family room, a three season porch and a screened porch occupy this lower floor.
